In our days at Arthur Hill we have time to make memories, to make high school an enjoyable and exciting part of our lives.

Make it memorable! High school is the time to form lasting frienships, discover our talents and abilities, and to open the door to a bright and successful future.

Each of us is given opportunities to excel at Arthur Hill, to compete and ask the best of ourselves. Sometimes this offers little challenge and stiffer competition must be found. Soon we discover that the best competition is with ourselves and there is always more to learn.

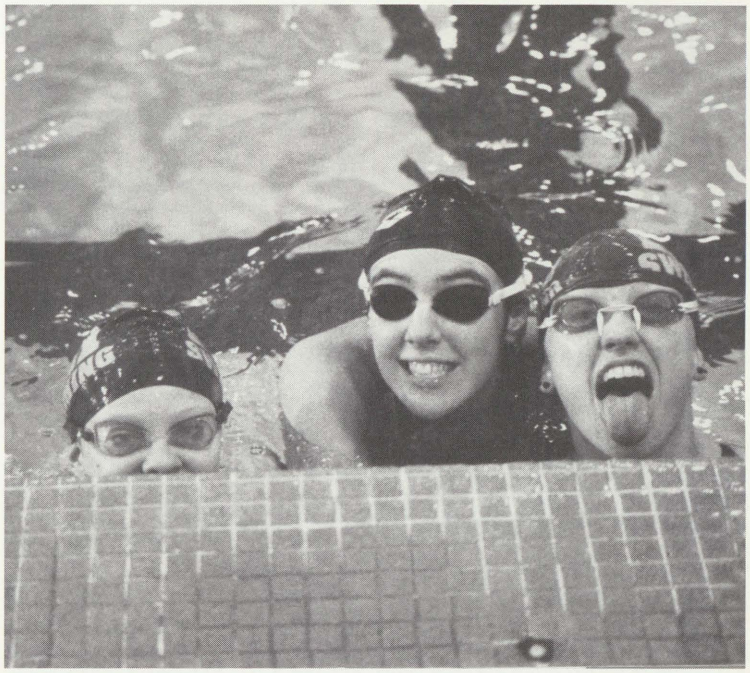

These are the days that we, as individuals, form original ideas, modern in style and habit, adjusting to changing tradition. We have concerns for tomorrow instead of yesterday.

We're alive and we've got a lot of living to do. Arthur Hill opens its doors to us for four years, guiding and encouraging us to high ideals and to achievement with honor. We are proud of being Hillites and our greatest goal is to succeed and make Arthur Hill proud to claim us as alumni.

Homecoming 1993 began a little differently. For the first time, the candidates' speeches were videotaped and viewed by the student body in their advisory classrooms. Students voted Diana Fernandez as queen and Katie Rico and Sophina Brown as attendants.

The rest was a blur of excitement for the fifteen girls in preperation for the Homecoming festivities. "It was an honor and a privelege to have been nominated to Homecoming Court. It was an experience I will never forget," said Jessica Stratton.

Homecoming gave us all wonderful memories but it left these girls with something even more special, being part of an Arthur Hill tradition.

Class of...94

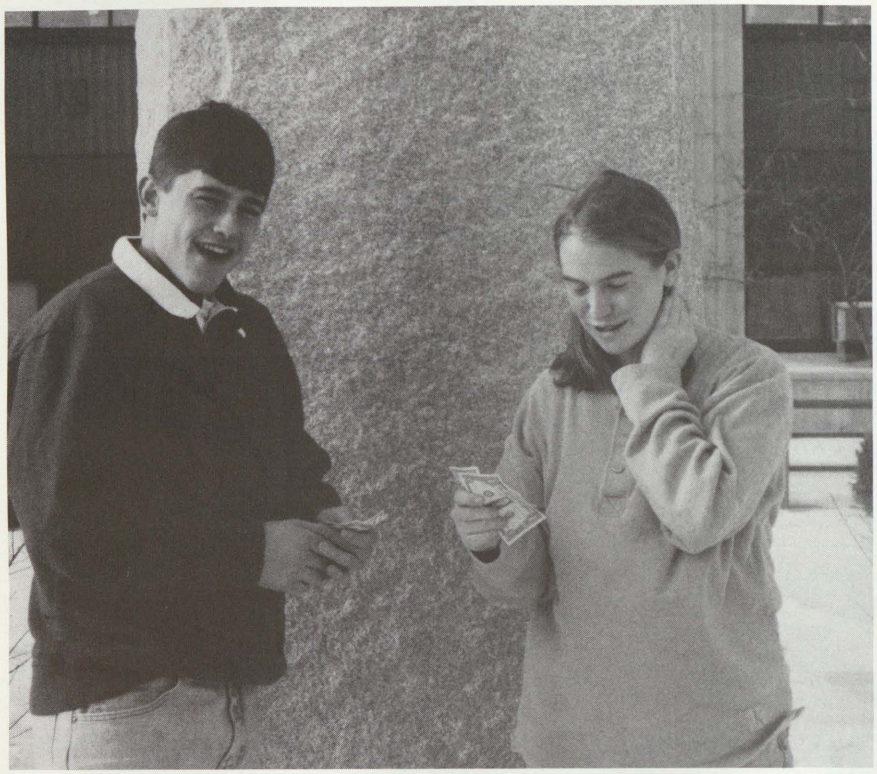

School is not just a place filled with books and teachers. To the seniors, it has been much more. It is a place where we spent more than half of our lives maturing and preparing ourselves for success in our chosen path.

During our years at Arthur Hill, we've learned to make the best of what we have and that nothing is impossible or beyond our reach. We've learned that nothing can stand in our way because we, as Lumberjacks, will fight our way to the top.

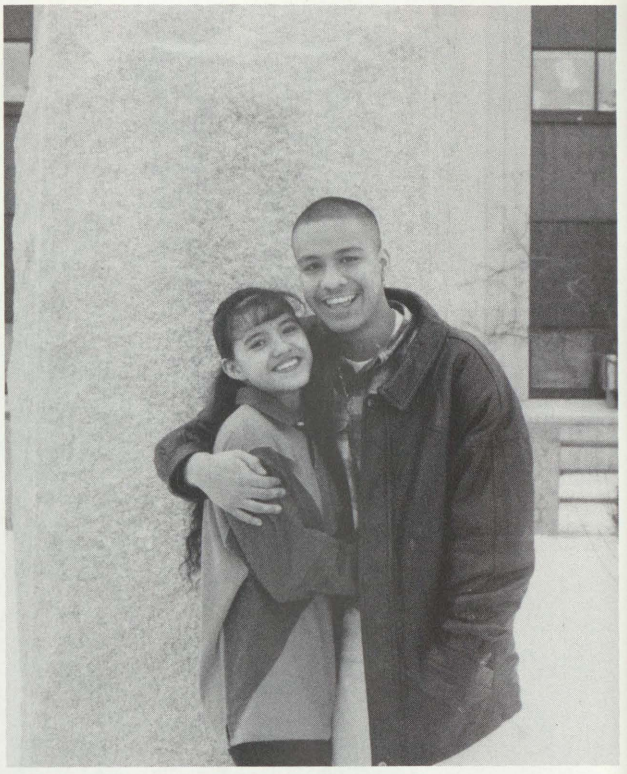

Juniors, sophomores, and freshmen: Take these last few high school years and make them memorable. Let your time here teach you not just history, geometry, and Shakespeare but also respect, tolerance, patience, and strength of character. These, more than anything else, will help you on your journey over the Hill.

- Monica Rudy and Jessica Stratton

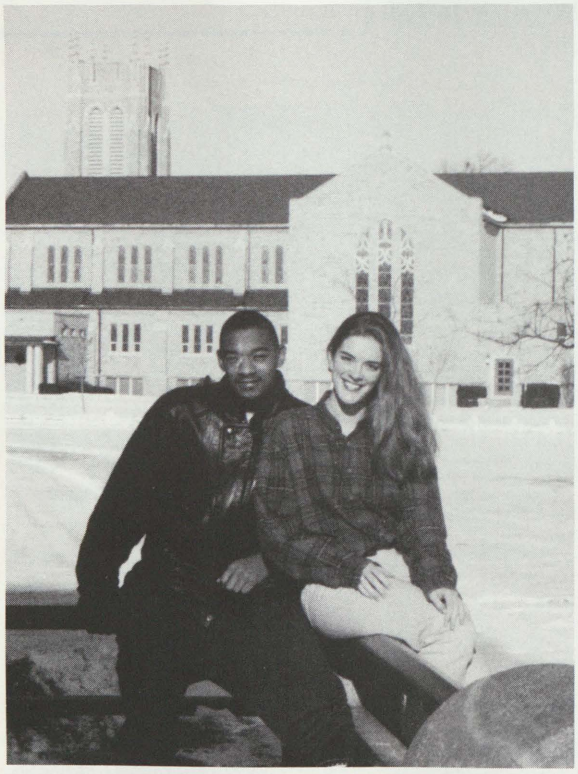

MOST LIKELY TO BE RICH - Treavor Eimers and Jane McIntosh

SMOOTHEST TALKERS - Alex Teneyuque and Alicia Fulgencio

We, Arthur Hill High School's senior class of nineteen hundred and ninety-four A.D., being (with a few exceptions) of sound mind and body, and realizing that the hallowed halls of this school will never be the same without our unique talents, personalities, and good looks around, do hereby arrange to leave many of our aforementioned sundry qualities with this year's crop of juniors, sophomores, and freshmen. We all wish the best of luck to every class who will follow us – you even have our permission to attempt to live up to the standards that we have set this year.

"We lost a great person and a great educator, a super Lumberjack by the name of Ed Periard during our 1993-94 school year. We must all remember Ed Periard as that enthusiastic, positive person with the big smile who would do anything for anyone. Every high school should have eight or ten Ed Periards, and I guarantee you they would be quality schools because of it. Ed was truly an All-American teacher and coach and his spirit will live forever at Arthur Hill High School."

- Principal Thomas B. Sharpe

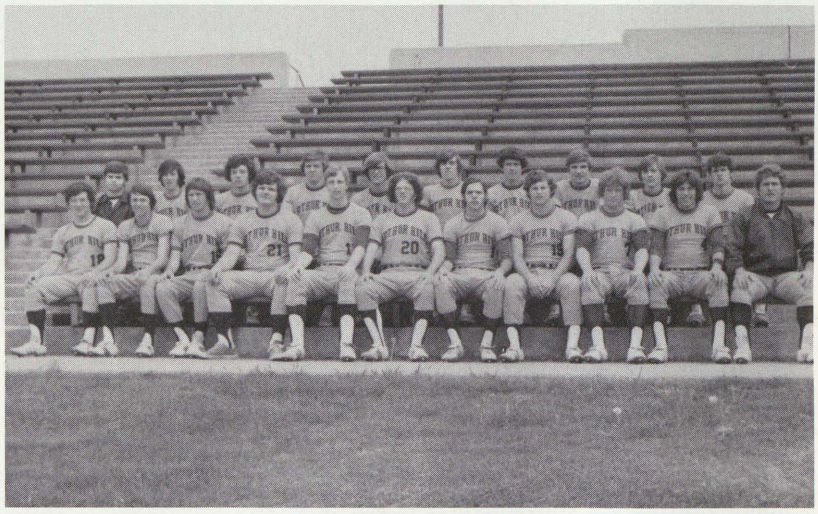

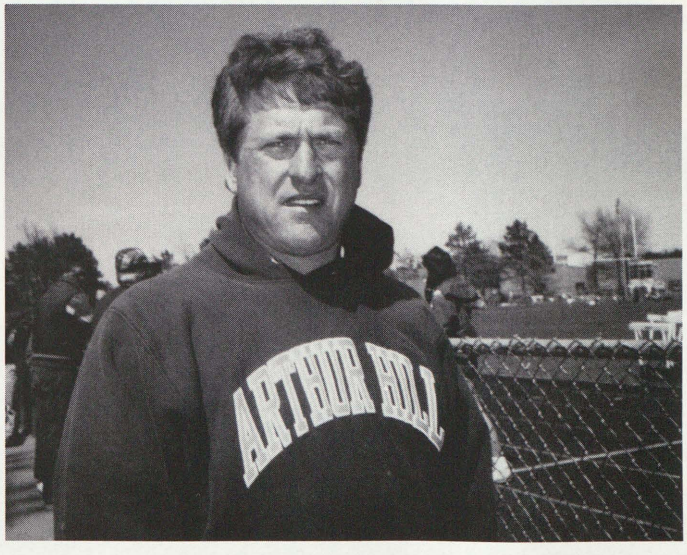

"When I think of Ed Periard, I think of genuine enthusiasm, of a person who truly cared for all of the people he touched in his life. And most of all, I think of Ed as a winner in this game of life."

- George Ihler

"I became friends with Ed Periard very quickly when I came to Arthur Hill in January 1985. He was the life of the lounge. Whenever anyone was having a bad day, Ed would pop in the lounge and cheer everyone up. He meant a great deal more to Arthur Hill than a physical education and health teacher. Ed was a spirit among us that everyone wanted to talk to and be part of.

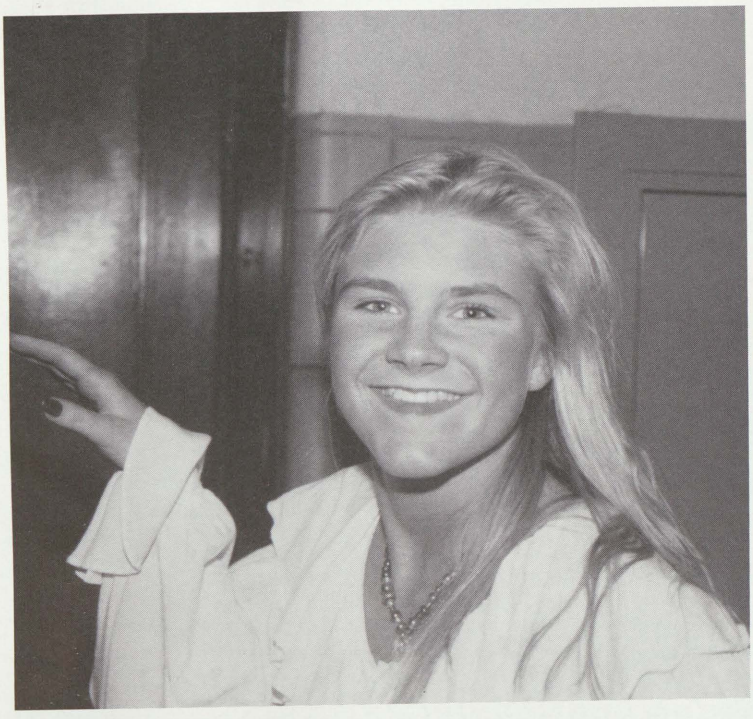

He treated everyone as equals. Ed Periard had the sensitivity and strength that most people would like but few achieve."

- Cal Mott

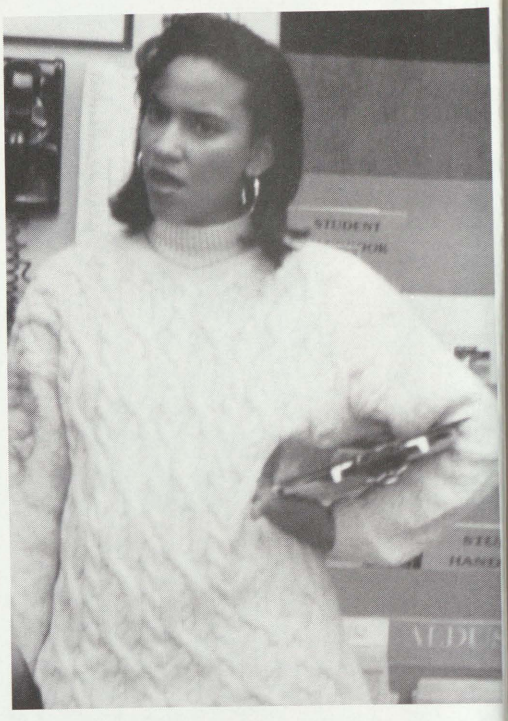

"Ed was like a magnet for kids; he drew them to him. You couldn't find a finer human being on this earth."

Midwest Flooding

The floods that washed across the Midwest the summer of 1993 may have been the worst in American history and they captured the concern of people across the nation. The stage for disaster was set during the winter when unusually large amounts of snow fell. There were no midwinter thaws, so the snow melted rapidly as spring arrived. This caused record flooding in many areas. Des Moines logged more than 32 inches by the end of July compared with 18.7 inches in a normal year.

Declaring that "The times are changing," Ruth Bader Ginsburg became the second woman to sit on the United States Supreme Court. Ginsburg, who became the 107th Supreme Court justice on August 10, 1993, said, "In my lifetime I expect there will be among the federal judicial nominees... as many sisters as brothers in law."

Grunge Rock

It was the year of grunge rock, and a band from Seattle known as Nirvana was among the proudest of purveyors of this unadorned, grinding form of rock. At the 10th Annual MTV Music Awards on September 2, 1993, Nirvana's "In Bloom" won the trophy for Best Alternative Video.

On September 13,1993, Yasser Arafat of the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) and Yitzhak Rabin of Israel signed a peace treaty that once seemed unimaginable. The PLO recognized the right of Israel to live in peace and Israel, in turn, recognized the PLO as the represenative of the Palestinians. President Clinton, who guided Arafat and Rabin toward their historic handshake, called it a "great occasion of history and hope".

Russian Revolution

Russia, one of the world's great powers, experienced political upheaval in 1993 more typical of a Third World nation. When President Boris Yeltsin disbanded the legislature September 21, 1993 many of its members barricaded themselves inside the parliament building in Moscow. Vice President Alexander Rutskoi and others attempted a coup. Following Yeltsin's orders, tanks and troops flushed out the defiant lawmakers, many of them were Communists opposed to Yeltsin's attempts at moving the nation toward a free market economy. A commision was formed to create a new legislative framework, and elections for a new parliament were scheduled.

An Amtrak train hurtled off a bridge into a bayou in Saraland, Alabama early on the morning of September 22, 1993, plunging all three engines and four of the eight cars into the swamp. Forty-seven people were killed in the wreck, which was called the worst in Amtrak's 23 year history.

On October 6, 1993 Michael Jordan announced his retirement at a press conference and stripped the league of its most recognizable name, and of a breathtaking player who led the NBA in scoring the last three years. "The thrill is gone. I've done it all. There is nothing left for me to do," Jordan told a reporter the night before his formal announcement. Jordan said his desire to retire was not prompted by his father's murder.

Battle In Bosnia

The civil war in what was once Yugoslavia moved through its second year at the terrible cost of human life. It is estimated that 200,000 people are now dead or missing, including ten United Nations relief workers. Much of the barbaric war centered on Sarajevo, the Bosnian capital, under siege by the Serbs. But life in other communities is even harder. A U. N. observer described Maglaj, a north Bosnian town of 35,000 that was besieged in June by the Croats, as "a shattered town of battered people."

Academics

We are all working very hard to continue with a total quality program of studies at Arthur Hill. Thanks to the efforts of our teachers, parents, and students working together we are able to maintain and build upon that tradition of excellence at "The Hill". This yearbook is one example of that quality work we are all working hard to maintain for our school.

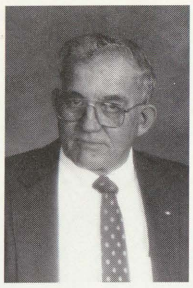

I am proud of our school and its students, teachers, parents, and alumni. Together we will continue to strive toward meeting our school motto, "Achievement with Honor". Best wishes.

We couldn't come up with a caption for this picture, but we just had to sneak it in somewhere.

Mr. Sharpe and Mrs. Andros enjoy a power lunch together.

"I have had one overriding goal: to nake quality educational opportunities a eality for all segments of the commu- ıity... regardless of race, age, or economic :lass. I have found that by working to- ;ether, by building bridges of understand- ng between people and groups, we can ıchieve that goal."

- Ruben Daniels

Ruben Daniels
October 17, 1917 - August 14, 1993

Ruben Daniels managed to achieve that goal through a lifetime of hard work. Mr. Daniels led his life for only one purpose: to make sure that everybody recieved a quality education. His incredible community commitment was shown by his membership on the Board of Directors, the Saginaw Human Relations Commission, and the Community Affairs Committee, just to mention a few of his involvements.

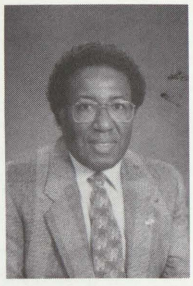

If there was ever need of his services, he always made the time to give. To some he was known as "Mr. Saginaw", and to others he was known as "The Governor". Mr. Daniels was often compared to Martin Luther King, Jr. He dedicated his life to easing racial tension, and in every situation he gave his all and helped it come out for the best.

Ruben Daniels was the second black police officer in Saginaw and the first black member of the Saginaw Board of Education. In May, he was elected into the Michigan Association of the School Board's Hall of Fame. In 1968 he was named an Outstanding Civic Leader of America; in 1982 he received the Educator of the Year award from Delta College; in 1987 the U.S. House of Representatives honored him as a Distinguished Citizen; and in 1989 he was the first recipient of the Saginaw Image Award.

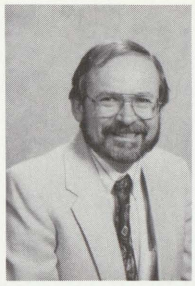

On August 14, 1993, Mr. Daniels passed away of an ailing heart. If anyone ever lived a life to the fullest with their dreams fulfilled and their goals reached, Ruben Daniels did. He made an incredible contribution to Saginaw and will live on in the hearts and minds of all of us.

I want to teach my students how
To live this life on earth
To face its struggles and its strife
And to improve their worth
Not just the lesson in a book
Or how the rivers flow
But how to choose the proper path
Wherever they may go
To understand the eternal truth
And know the right from wrong
And gather all the beauty of
A flower and a song
For if I help the world to grow
In wisdom and in grace
Then I should feel that I have won
And I have filled my place
And so I ask your guidance, God
That I may do my part
For character and confidence
And happiness of heart.

At any given time during the day you can visit the student services office here at school and see a collaboration of people at work. The school administrators are a diverse group including Mr. Sharpe, Mr. Paine, Mr. Adams, and Mrs. Andros. A staunch yet concerned Mr. Paine is in charge of attendance, Mr. Adams, with his great smile, is in charge of discipline, Mrs. Andros is the leading lady for curriculum, and the gentle, respectable Mr. Sharpe as head of it all. These four people are the core here at our high school. They solve the little arguements between friends, fights, and even which classes are available for students to take. So remember to smile the next time you see our administrators because what they do they are doing for us.

From the earliest recorded times to the nation's economy, it is all a part of Social Studies . Arthur Hill offers a variety of classes that may be taken in this subject. U.S. History, economics, and government are required in order to graduate. If you are interested in taking a class in this area but these ones don't appeal to you there are also the choices of business law, western civilization, psychology, and sociology. So make your choice and you will soon become more aware of the world around you.

The Center for the Arts and Sciences is part of a tradition of achievement that has been growing in the city of Saginaw. Arthur Hill students attend the C.A.S. for half a day, usually after lunch, under the administration of Keith Birdsall, the director.

The curriculum at the C.A.S. is varied, including such subjects as visual art, math, science, global studies, language arts, and theater. The classes are more concentrated and have longer periods of time allotted to them than a similar class at Arthur Hill would be. For a student who someday wishes to pursue a career in a field that the C.A.S. offers, the extra class time is invaluable.

The Arthur Hill News stands out in many of our minds as an award winning high school publication. This year the news staff, under the supervision of adviser Patsy Procuro, started the year out with as good of a publication as any other staff, despite the fact that the news staff this year was younger and less experienced than in previous years. Editor-in-Chief Brice Bush and section editors Chuck Wilcox, Dave Schmidt, Jenny Stelzer, Katie Foster, and Jay Godard did their best with the involvement and dedication of the entire staff to produce their best possible editions of The Arthur Hill News. All staff members were dedicated and had a great amount of enthusiasm to get the job done right. Congratulations on a successful year of The News!

In the past, juniors have been stuck in the middle. This year, with the addition of freshmen to the Hill, they're joined by the sophomores. Last year the junior class started slowly climbing the Hill, and now they're only one step away from the top, which will soon be theirs as the senior class graduates.

Your junior year is one of the most important academic school years if you are planning to further your education. The grades you earn as a junior are usually the most important on a college application or résumé, and a good record reflects well on a student. So hit the books, juniors!! You're creating your future now.

Sophomores! New smiles, new faces, new school!

Being the second youngest class in the school is not all that bad. In a way, with the arrival of the new freshman class, this year's class lucked out. With new rules and people they have had no trouble adjusting to Lumberjack spirit.

The sophomore class has surely made themselves known in the vast halls of Arthur Hill, with their participation in the Homecoming parade and other various activities around the school. Although the sophomore class is now expected to fulfill stricter requirements to receive a state-endorsed diploma, most say that they won't let that hold them back. The class of '96 has had a great beginning in their climb to the top of the Hill.

Who says you have to live in Saginaw to be a Lumberjack?

Foreign Exchange

NATALIA BENTSIONOVA
RUSSIA

Hi, my name is Natasha. I live in two places: Kiev, the capital of Ukraine, and in Moscow. I love both places, and it doesn't matter to me whether it's one country, like it was until the U.S.S.R. was broken, or they're two different countries like they are now.

There are very hard lives in my country now, because it has changed so fast. One of the biggest problems of Russian people is money. It is not as hard to find a job as it is here, but most people don't want to work because they don't get paid enough. There is a lot of inflation in Russia. Bread costs more now than people got paid in a month three years ago. The price of a dollar goes up very fast. Four years ago, $1 was 20 rubles, and last year it was 1000-2000 rubles for $1. Sometimes there are lines for two or three hours in stores because they don't have enough stuff. I like the fact that teens of America can get a job and so earn money. There are no jobs for teens in my country. They have to ask their parents every time they need money. Anyway, life is much cheaper in Russia. It is enough to have one hundred dollars a month for one family.

The U.S.A. is a dream for many Russian people because they think it is the best country in all of the world. Some people came to America to live forever but many people have no money for this.

About me: I'm 15. I like to swim, to ride, to skate and travel. I want to be a designer because I like to draw. My dream was to live in the country because I was tired after large and noisy cities, but now I live in a small city. There is a lot of fun there, but sometimes I'm bored because I miss that city where I grew up, which is much bigger than Saginaw. There is no curfew in Kiev or Moscow. There isn't a big problem if somebody is skipping classes. Downtown isn't as dangerous as it is here. There are no Halloween, Thanksgiving, or Valentine's Day in my country. The biggest holiday is the New Year in Russia. It is the same as Christmas here, but we can open presents at midnight and have parties till morning.

What about sports? The most popular in Russia are soccer, hockey, and tennis. There is no football, golf, or baseball at all in Russia, and we aren't so crazy about basketball.

Everybody asks me which country I like more. I love Ukraine and Russia because I grew up there and they have a lot of fun and something cool. But there are many things in the U.S.A. that I like much more.

Teens in Russia and Ukraine think the U.S. is the coolest country. Half of the movies on TV and the music on the radio is American. I like roller skating, rap, American food and, of course, people.

I like that every family has their own houses here. There are just apartments in my city. I live in a 16-floor house with about 400 apartments. Even my best friend lives in the same house as me. When children grow up, get married and have their own kids they usually still live with their parents because they don't have the money to buy another apartment.

It is cool that teens in the U.S. can drive at age 16, but I have no car and every time I want to go somewhere I need to ask my host parents or friends. Many families of my country have no car at all because it is expensive. So there are subways and a lot of buses in my city.

Everything was new for me at Arthur Hill. In Russia, there are groups of 30-40 students of the same age. They always have the same classes and are together 1st till 11th grade. But here I meet different people every class. There are as many students in my school as here but 6 and 18 year old students go to the same school in my country. There are no school sports, yearbooks, and Russian schools have numbers instead of names. I like it here more because there are more students of my age at Arthur Hill.

American schools are much easier than Russian. Students in my country can't change their classes the way they can here. They have 15-20 different classes a week and it isn't so boring as it is here because every day doesn't seem like the day before. School buses are new for me, too, because everybody goes to school near home in my country. There are about 400 schools in Kiev. After 9th grade you can go to junior technical college, but after you finish this, you won't get a good job. It's better if you go to institute (which is the same as college here) after you finish 11th grade. Usually you don't have to pay to go to college—in fact, they will pay you because you have no job. But it is hard to go to institute if you have bad grades in school. Anyway, many teens hate our school and skip much more than here. Every man who doesn't go to an institute has to go to the Army for about two years after school.

I like the big families in America. Russian families have just one or two kids. I had neither sister nor brother, but I got three in my host family.

When I first came here, I almost didn't speak English, everything was new for me, and everybody around helped me.

Thanks to my host family who do a lot for me. Thanks to my friends who make my life more funny here. Thanks to everybody who helped me for being here. Thanks to Arthur Hill where I got a lot of cool friends and fun times.

I love your wonderful country and hope I'll come here again someday. I'm really happy that I'm here.

ALLAN JOHANSEN
DENMARK

What's up, everybody? My name is Allan Johansen. I'm an 18 year old Danish exchange student. I have a mom and a dad, three sisters, and a dog. I love to play sports, and I played on the Arthur Hill soccer team. It was a little different than what I'm used to—high school rules are not the same as professional rules, which we played under. In the spring I will try out for the tennis team.

Saginaw is a lot different from where I came from. I come from a town with 40,000 inhabitants, which is a pretty big town in Denmark. There are only 5.1 million people in Denmark, which isn't as much as even Michigan. All the fast food is also new to me. I'm only used to McDonald's and Burger King, and in Denmark they're not very fast, either (plus they're really expensive).

I came to the United States to learn the language and to study about the country. Right now I know the language pretty well and I'm trying to travel as much as possible to see other places in the U.S. One of the best places I've been is Niagara Falls, and I'm going to California, which I believe is going to be the best. I like the U.S. so much that I might one day want to move over here, and maybe start my own business.

I know that when I go home to my country, I'm going to miss lots of things such as all my friends and my host family. I hope that everybody will remember me for who I am and not for what I did.

■ KOKI FUJITA

JAPAN

My name is Koki Fujita. I'm from Tokushima, Japan, Saginaw's sister city. Tokushima city is so cool. I love my city. Of course, I love Saginaw, too. But there are many differences between Japan and U.S. As a young people, we like sports, music, and dancing... usually our parents are too busy to participate in these things. I found that American adults like to play. So, I would like to be like an American adult.

In my home school, Seiko, when you join sports club you are required to participate all three years and you can only choose one sport. This one sport practices every day, all year round. This is boring. Now at Arthur Hill I can join a new sports team each different season. So far I have run Cross Country and swam on the Swimming team. On these teams I have met many great guys.

I am a member of two competition Hip-Hop dance teams in Japan. These teams practice two or three times a week. Sometimes my teams have won these contests. It has been fun to teach my American friends to Hip-Hop.

I came to the U.S. to learn English and experience American culture. My American family says my English is getting better and I love American food, movies, music and the "Red Eye" for coffee.

The biggest difference is that the weather is very cold, as cold as the summer is hot. I was very surprised that there were no school days due to the cold weather. It takes a typhoon to close school in Japan.

My host families have been very generous. The Rotary Exchange pro vides two or three families for each student during their stay. They do this because each family has something different and special to share and provides a variety of American experiences.

Mr. and Mrs. Faerber and their daughter, Lori; and Mr. and Mrs. Schantz and their son, Eric gave me more parents and brothers and sisters than I ever imagined.

I love America. I will never forget my American life, my other home town, Saginaw, my American friends and the other exchange students from all over the world that I met at Arthur Hill and through the Rotary Exchange program.

■ ANDRE KAMP

GERMANY

Hi, my name is Andre Kamp and I am 16 years old. I am an exchange student from Germany. Germany is in the middle of Europe. It is 4.5% as large as the U.S.A. (not including Alaska and Hawaii) and has a population of around 90 million people.

I live in the western part of Germany near the border to the Netherlands. My town is really small; only 7000 people live there. But the next big cities like Duesseldorf (700,000 inhabitants) and Colone (900,000 inhabitants) are only around 35 km away. My dad works in an open coal mine as an electrician. There he works on the biggest shover-wheel excavators in the world. My mom works three days a week in a fashion store. I went to the high school "Gymnasium Odenkirchen". In Germany there are three different kinds of schools: one for blue-collar jobs, one for white-collar, and one for people who want to attend university. I go to the last kind and hope that I am going to university after school.

My school is like a high school. But I only have school from 7:30 to 13:50 o'clock. Also we have 12 different subjects in one semester and every day we have a different schedule. After school I normally meet my friends and we go to movies, cafes or just hang around at somebody's house and watch videos. At weekend we often go to a pub or to a disco (not this old 70's style). We always have a lot of fun. Also I was in a handball team of my town. Handball is played like basketball but instead of baskets there are goals.

And now I am in the great U.S.A. because I wanted to see the country I had heard so much about, and I really like it. The area in Michigan is great with its lakes and forests and the people here are so friendly. Also, I like Arthur Hill with all of its teams and activities. I am a member of the swimming team and I had a lot of fun this year.

BARBRO ERICHSEN
NORWAY

Hello, my name is Barbro Erichsen. I am an 18 year old exchange student from Trondheim, Norway, host of the 1994 Winter Olympics. I live together with my mom, Grethe, who works for a kindergarten; my dad, Jan Roar, who works for a medical company; and my brother Ketil, whom some of you met when he visited over Christmas. We don't have any animals right now, except my brother's two turtles, Fraya and Brage.

Besides going to school, I swam for a local club, worked, hung out with friends, spent time at our cabin, went to parties, discos, and so on – mostly the same things people do here.

I came here the 18th of August, and so far it has been a blast! I am living with the Brays, who are a great family. (Thank you mum, dad, Jodi and Kyra) I started on the swim team the second day I was here. We don't have school teams in Norway, so it was very new for me. The girls swim team had a lot of fun together. We even had a winning season. (Look out for the speed racers in the future!)

Many things are different here compared to my country. The school system, the government, the nature, and the prices are different. A Big Mac costs around six to seven dollars, a tank of gas approximately 50 dollars, a movie ticket six to seven dollars, and so on. Since we are a socialistic country, taxes are very high, but of course it gives us advantages like free medical care and free education in college.

Time flies by, and I have less than five months left. I am planning to go out for the soccer team, take a trip to Florida or New York and continue to have a good time with my friends and family here. Next year I have to finish my senior year in Norway. Instead of graduation we get two weeks off from school to party all day and night at the end of the year. I am also going to work as a swimming instructor. After that, I don't know. I just know that I will study something at the university in Trondheim.

I often miss my family and friends at home, but it will be harder to leave Saginaw, and I don't know if I will ever see my new friends again. Fortunately, Jenny Stelzer, Jim Noonan and Michael Uhrich are coming over to Norway this summer, and I'll be able to see some of my great American friends again.

VALERIE DECLUME
FRANCE

My name is Valerie. I come from Toulouse in the south-west of France. In my family in France I have two brothers: Alex, who is 19, and Thierry, who is 12. Alex goes to a special high school where he learns how to be a waiter for the best restaurant in the country and Thierry goes to junior high. My parents work together doing required government automobile safety checks.

When I decided to come to the U.S., my family didn't want me to go. But my parents are always very supportive and told me to do what I wanted. I'm grateful for their trust in me. In France students don't often choose to become exchange students. My friends didn't understand why I wanted to go. I wanted to come here to see something different, to learn another language and another culture, and to meet new people and friends. I found what I wanted in Saginaw.

I came to Saginaw in December. I spent the first semester in a small high school in Elk Rapids and the second semester here at Arthur Hill. The first few days at Arthur Hill were scary and I was trying to remember where my classrooms were.

What can I tell you about France? School is different there – we can't choose our classes or our teachers, we have a weekly schedule instead of the same classes every day, and we study around 12 different subjects. We start school at 8 am and finish at 5 pm. School is only for study – we don't have any sports or clubs.

We also have a lot more school buildings so students usually don't live more than 3 miles from their school. The public transportation is better in France. Students use a public bus every day for school and get a free pass from the administration.

I like the U.S. very much, and I hope I will come back to visit.

ROCIO MARTINEZ-AVIAL
SPAIN

My name is Rocio, and I am from Madrid, Spain. When I first came here, it was a little scary, and I could not understand what people were talking about, but now I feel lucky to be an exchange student.

I came to the United States because I was sure it would be a great experience to learn English and about the American people.

The people are very friendly, and the teachers, and my counselor Mr. Wilkinson help me all the time.

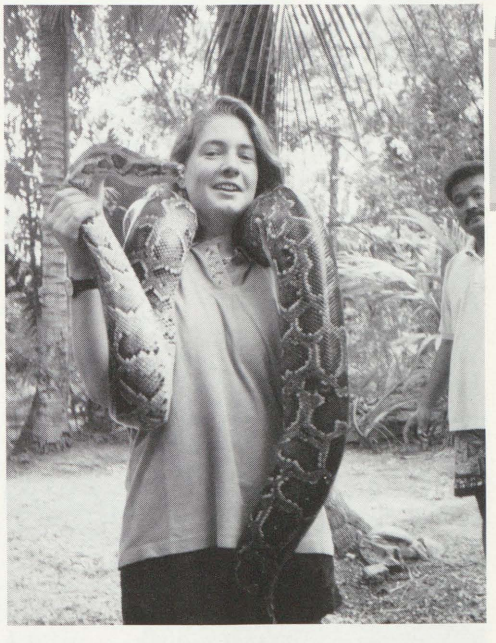

My school in Spain is really different. It is a private school with just 80 students. We don't switch classes like here, the teachers do. We have nine subjects and we don't choose those. We study a lot more, and the classes are somewhat harder. We have to buy our books every year, and we don't have a locker.

I like the U.S.A., and I am amazed at how cold it gets here in Saginaw, but there are some things that I like better in Spain. There we can drink, smoke, and go to the disco at any age, but we have to be 18 to drive, and a license costs 2,000 dollars.

Here, there aren't too many places to go if you don't have a car.

I don't think that this year passed by very fast, especially for me, because I went back to Spain for Christmas.

I am sad because I have to leave Saginaw pretty soon, but I am happy, too, to go back home. I am sure I will come back to Saginaw, because it's a great city!

JOANA MELO DO PRADO

I'm Joana Prado, a 6-month exchange student from Brazil. The decision to become an exchange student was a sudden one that I made talking with friends that had been part of an intercultural program and with two other friends that are doing this program with me. I thought it was a wonderful opportunity to learn more about another country and it was something that I had to handle soon or I would be sorry I missed the opportunity.

I chose the U.S.A. because it is the country that is most suited to receive exchange students. But things are not as easy as they seemed to be before I came. I mean, the culture, the habits, the school, the weather, the food, people... everything is different, and it takes time to get accustomed to it.

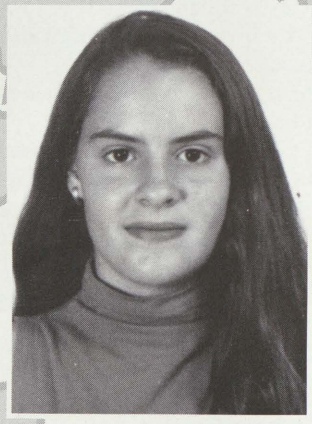

In Brazil I live with my parents and my two younger sisters. We are an average family. My school is very different from Arthur Hill. There, we can't choose what classes we want to take. We have to have math, physics, chemistry, history, geography, biology, gym, Portuguese (grammar and literature), philosophy, and English. We have a weekly schedule and activities like sports, music and art aren't in the school schedule. I used to do swimming and gym in an academy and English and French in language schools.

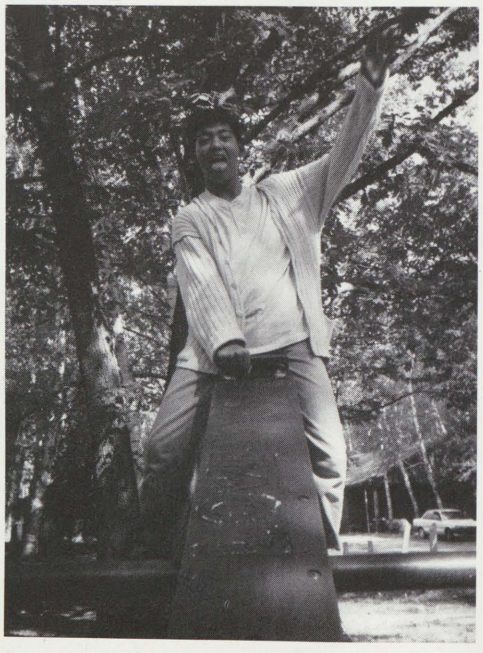

Our schools are very different, but that doesn't mean I don't like it here; American students do know how to mix fun with a serious job.

One thing I've had to get used to is the eating habits. In Brazil, the main meal is the lunch. We always have breakfast, lunch (normally meat, salad, rice, and beans) and in my family we also have dinner (more or less like the lunch).

We are a tropical country, so we never have weather like what I've seen here. We never have snow. I've enjoyed the new experiences.

I am really enjoying this new life, my school, my family, and new friends. Everything is nice here. The most difficult thing is when I miss my friends and family, but I'm enjoying making the most out of my new life.

STEPHAN SMOUT
NETHERLANDS

Hi! I am Stephan Smout. I am 18 years old and I am an exchange student from the Netherlands, also called Holland. The official language is Dutch, but people also speak English, German, and French.

Being an exchange student is a very interesting experience: you learn a lot about another country and about yourself. I learned a lot about America. Dutch and Americans have so much in common that it wasn't hard for me to adjust here. Of course, there are also some differences, simply because America and Holland are two different countries.

First of all, the drinking age here is 21, whereas it is 16 in Holland. In Holland it is not really a big deal to drink, so people don't really drink because it is thought to be "cool". Second, the age to drive here is 16, whereas it is 18 in Holland. Americans rely on cars more than Dutch people do. In addition to cars, Dutch people use bikes, buses, trams, and trains to get around. In Holland, you cannot take driver's ed at school so you take it at a private institution. It's very expensive: about $1500.

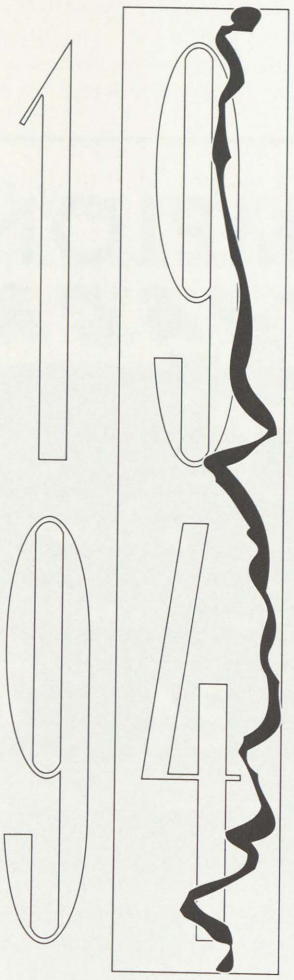

In Holland there is no real gang problem. Still, some parts of big cities such as Amsterdam are very dangerous. It is illegal for private people to own firearms, but you can own an air gun.

A big difference, I think, is that teens here work as much as they can to save some money. Right after they get out of school, oftentimes they go straight to work. In Holland teenagers usually get an allowance from their parents which they use to buy clothes and personal items. They usually only work during weekends and vacations.

College is very expensive here compared to Holland. That is because education is heavily subsidized in Holland. Dutch parents get child support even if they are not divorced.

What I really like a lot about America is the fact that almost every school has a school band and that they have special events like homecoming, spirit week, and the prom. I really don't feel like I am a foreigner here, so if somebody says "America, my home," I can really identify with that person. America will always be my other home country.

Good Year for Gridders

The 1992 football team was hard to follow, but this year's team did a great job! The returning seniors played a key role in the team's success. Team captains Andy Davila as quarterback, Treavor Eimers on tackle, Deverett Gaiter at center and Sam Sword on the line led the way to the playoffs once again. All of us were behind these guys through the whole season and we're proud of their hard work.

Frosh Football Kicks Off At The Hill

With the addition of freshmen, Arthur Hill has gone through many changes, one of which is the addition of a new division to our legendary football program. This year marked the beginning of freshman football at Arthur Hill. With the support of fellow lumberjacks, the frosh football team had a successful beginning, and the years to come look even brighter. "I think it was a fun experience for me," said team member Larry Shelton.

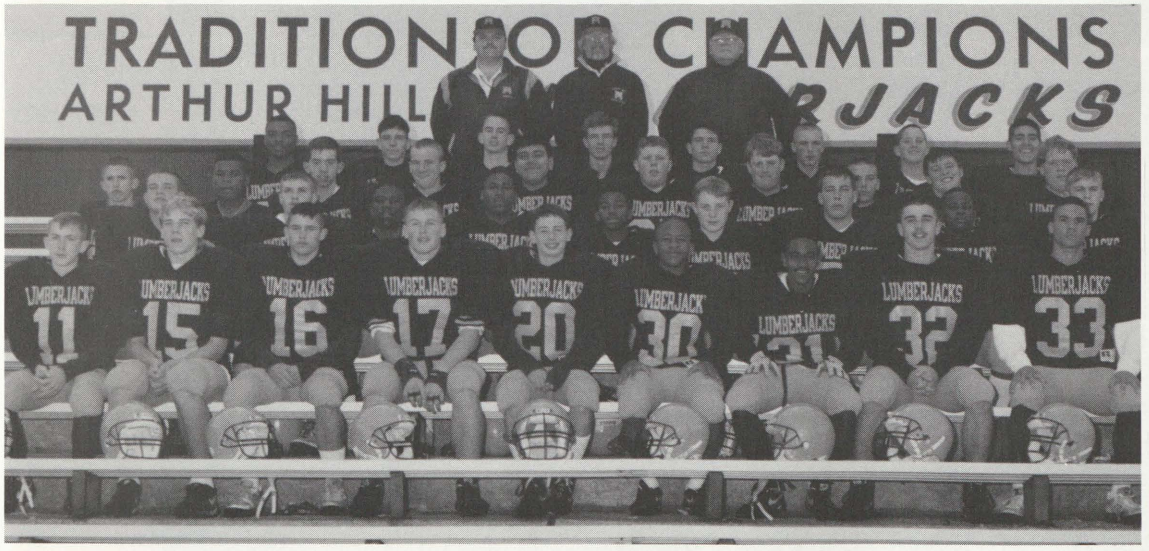

A little mud on the field won't stop these Hillites from taking Alpena down.

Hillite Kickers Use Their Heads, Go Far

What a soccer team we had this year! They made it all the way to the district finals, establishing themselves as the only Arthur Hill soccer team to advance this far into the playoffs. The returning seniors were a big part of the team's stupendous success, although everyone on the team contributed. Every player should give himself a pat on the back, because they were a part of the greatest Arthur Hill soccer team ever. Good job to Coach Carpenter and all the players; your hard work paid off this season!

New Junior Kickers Worth Waiting For

This year was the first for the boy's JV soccer team, and it proved to be well worth the wait. Although they didn't win every game, the team improved a lot through the whole season. The team consisted of mostly freshmen, sophomores, and a few juniors. Among these players, Nick Oeming and Jeff Sauer played on both the JV and varsity teams. Eric Poyhonen's speed at forward and Chris Manley's strong goaltending contributed to the team's great season.

Both the junior varsity golf team and the varsity golf team did an excellent job this year. Many talented golfers contributed to this effort. This year, senior Mike Girard was the first golfer to make it to the state finals since the 1966 team won the state championship.

The object of junior varsity golf is to prepare the golfers for their varsity years. This year's J.V. team made great progress through the season. Although the graduating seniors will be missed, there are several promising underclassmen and the coaches are looking forward to next year's varsity team.

The girls swim team has had an exceptional year. There were very few records not broken by these 1993-94 tankers. Barbro Erichsen, a Norwegian exchange student, played a key part in setting individual records, along with team captain Jenny Stelzer. This year's relay teams have blown their opponents out of the water. These little mermaids were the best team in the past 13 years at Arthur Hill and it may be hard to swim through their wake.

VOLLEYBALL

Lady Spikers Show Strength

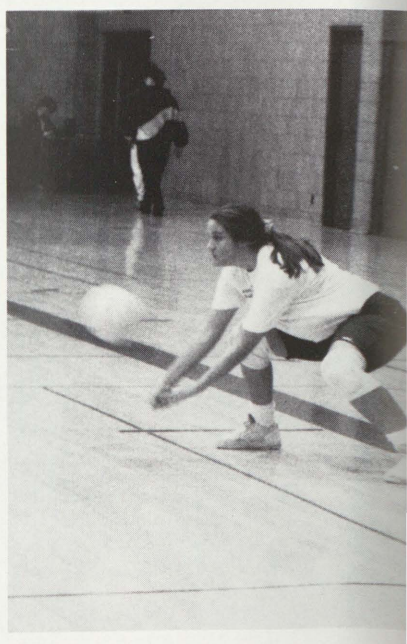

This year's varsity volleyball team finished with a record of 4-7. The team had a few problems at the beginning of the year, but worked through them as a team to make the end of the season one of the best in years. Led by Kelly Libby, the ladies played strongly and gained a lot of respect from their coaches and from themselves. Next year there will be five seniors to lead the way. Good job, spikers, and good luck next year!

The J.V. Volleyball team had a rough season this year. They ended with a record of 3-7 in the Valley Conference, and 6-15 overall. A Great Beginning

In a year full of firsts, the newly-established freshman volleyball team stands out. These girls had to work hard to learn the tricks of the trade so they could compete with the other schools. Most of the girls had never played volleyball before but they all put forth a great effort to learn the skills and apply them in the game. Their hard work and effort paid off.

Grapplers Produce Productive Season

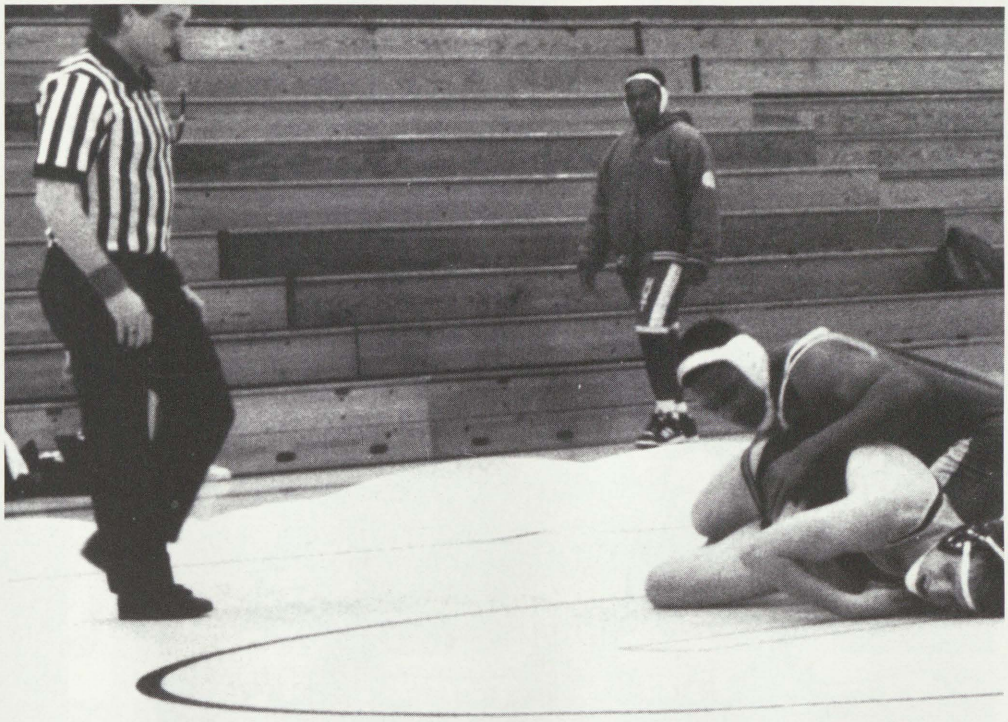

The Arthur Hill grapplers did their best to make this year's season a productive one. With only two returning seniors, the wrestlers had a tough time. Pom-Pon Squad Spirited, Outgoing

This year the Arthur Hill Varsity pom-pon squad was unique because the team is primarily seniors. Included in the seniors are captains Danelle Hoffman and Jessica Stratton. Having a lot of girls the same age enjoying the same interests makes the team very close, creating team unity and memories that will last a lifetime.

Each year, both the varsity and J.V. squads attend summer camp to learn new routines to perform at football and basketball games. This year, the team attended Eastern Michigan University and won several awards, including the "spirit stick" award. This award recognizes teams with the most outgoing and friendly attitudes.

Pom-pon is a great activity to get involved in. You can meet great friends, support Arthur Hill, and have a great time!

MAKING MEMORIES IN...

Student Council

The student council is an organization that consists of commitment, leadership, and support for the school. The council is made up of twenty-eight students. Each grade level has six representatives, while the whole student body is represented by student council president Dan Shelley, vice-president Treavor Eimers, treasurer Sophina Brown, and secretary RaeChell Foster.

This year, the student council held a "penny drive" for Toys for Tots, raising over two thousand dollars for needy children. The council is active throughout the school year, from Homecoming to graduation. Although it is a school organization, it takes a lot of outside effort to get things done. Most importantly, the members of our student council get things done the right way.

The S.A.D.D. Chapter at Arthur Hill is a very involved group, consisting of around thirty hard working and dedicated students. Among these students, president Michelle Kemerer and vice-president Kristi Parent along with Jenny Vensizle do more than their share.

Mary Wieland is the adviser for the chapter. She organizes the students and helps in every way. Ms. Wieland has been working with the S.A.D.D. Chapter for 18 years now, and Arthur Hill has certainly prospered from her presence.

S.A.D.D.'s activities include a float in the Homecoming Parade, the "Tie One On" red ribbon drive, cookie sales, and contributions to the dime campaign for seniors at the end of the year. All of these jobs require a lot of hard work from everyone.

In order to recruit members to this extraordinary group, S.A.D.D. (which is an acronym for Students Against Drunk Driving) advertises throughout the school. Anyone can be a member and you can join at any time during the year.

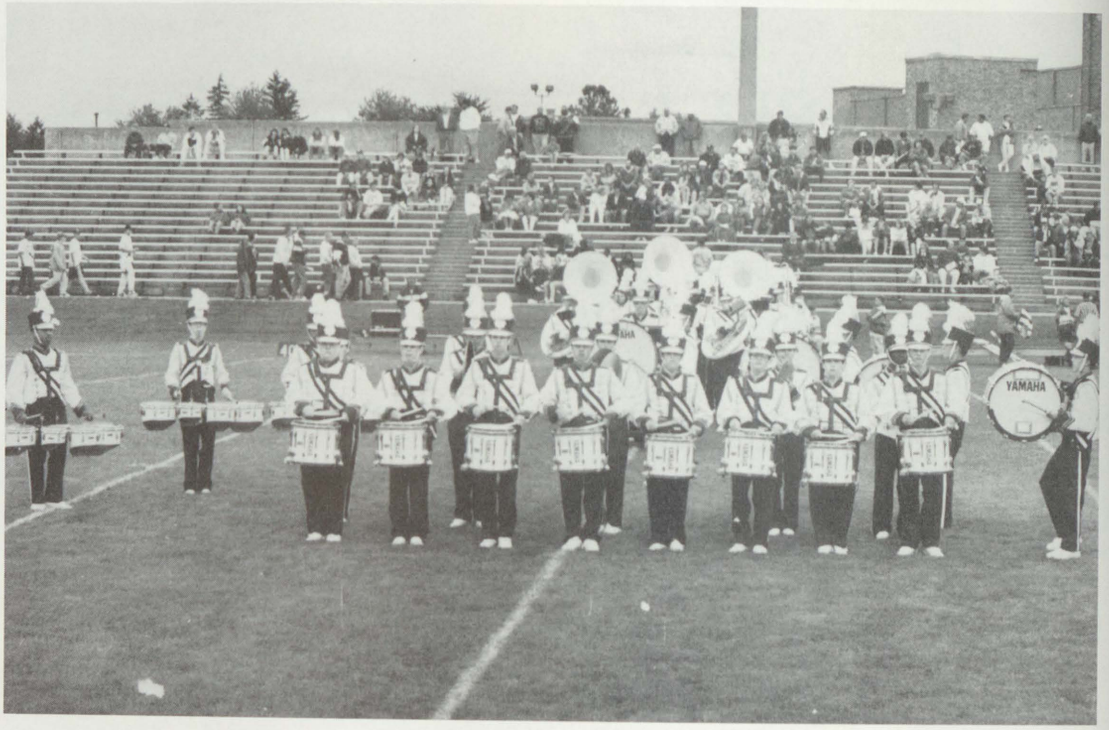

The main message that the S.A.D.D. chapter wants to get across to the students at Arthur Hill High School is that you don't have to stop drinking alcohol, but just be safe. If you are going to drink, DON'T DRIVE!!

Kelly Palmer braves the cold to tie red ribbons onto car antennas.

Band

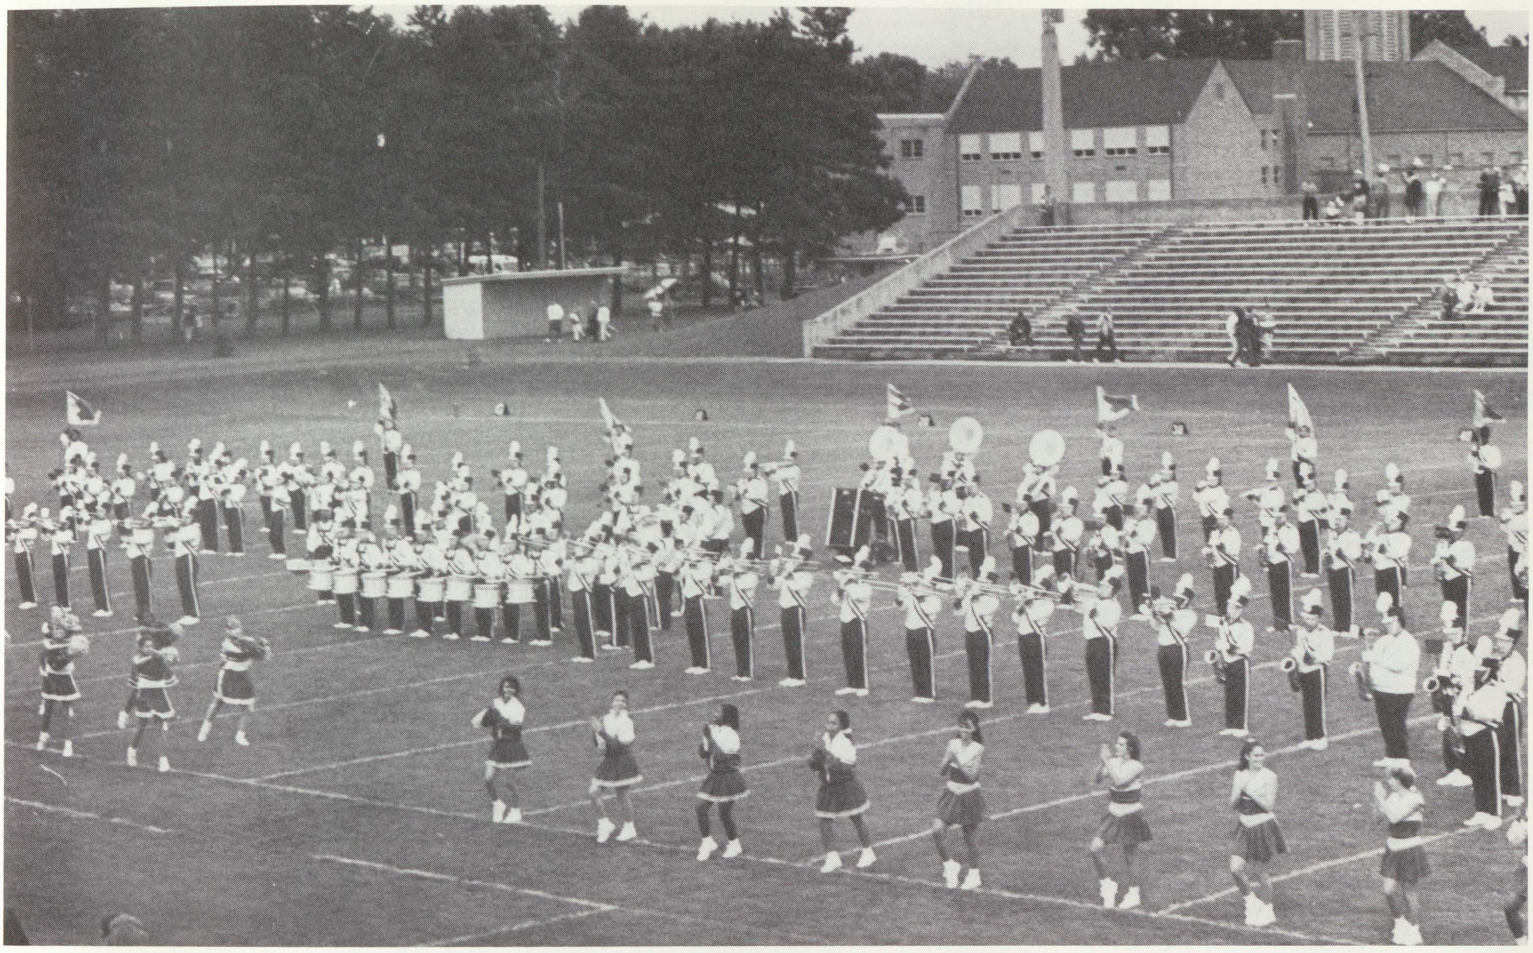

The fabled Arthur Hill Marching Drum Line performs their percussion feature.

Somewhere inside Santa Jack's mouth you can see Eric Schantz gasping for air.

This year has been a year of landmark changes for the Arthur Hill band. Director Tim Kasten says he has "really big plans for the future," building on the hard work that many of the students put into the band this year.

With the addition of freshmen, the band grew to 160 members strong, making it the largest band in Arthur Hill history. Next year, membership is expected to climb even higher.

This year also marked the start of the band council, a committee of highly motivated students, including presidents Rob Doane and Andrew Thaler, vice-president Kirsti Nowak, treasurer Heidi Lenz, secretary Ann Cormier, and representatives of each grade level. The band council met over the summer and, entirely on its own initiative, started work on two major fundraisers that raised a much-needed $10,000 for the band program at Arthur Hill.

Yet another major change was the organization of the band into three separate classes after the end of marching season. In previous years, the entire band met together for the whole year. Starting this year, the band has been broken up into three groups by ability: the Honors Band, directed by Mr. Kasten; the Concert Band, directed by Jim Hargett; and the Reserve Band, directed by Linda Callison. The purpose of the split was to enable better instruction for the varied skill levels of the students.

This year was also the second year that the band worked with Ric Roberts, director of the Northern Aurora Drum and Bugle Corps, to improve the marching skills of its students.

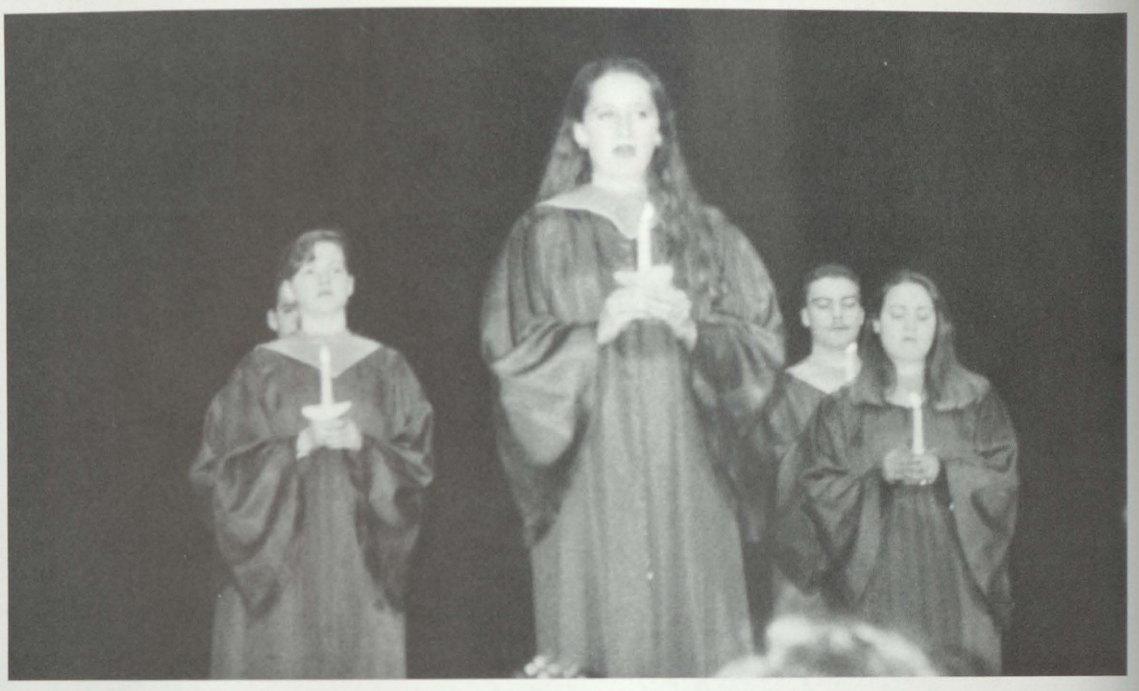

Another facet of the band program at Arthur Hill is the incredibly popular Jazz Band. The jazz band is an elective that is available to instrumentalists in the regular band, and also to other interested musicians, such as guitarists, pianists, and vocalists. The jazz band is well known for the highly charged concerts it gives free of charge around the community. With top-notch students like James Mann on guitar, Dan Shelley on vocals and trombone, and many students that deliver great improvisational solos, the jazz band is a must-see for everyone in the community.

The band program at Arthur Hill has been through many changes, and will likely change even more in the years ahead. One thing that will never change, however, is the fun that the students have playing in the band. Memories of marching, pep band, the Christmas concert, band festival, the Superconcert, and jazz band will last forever.

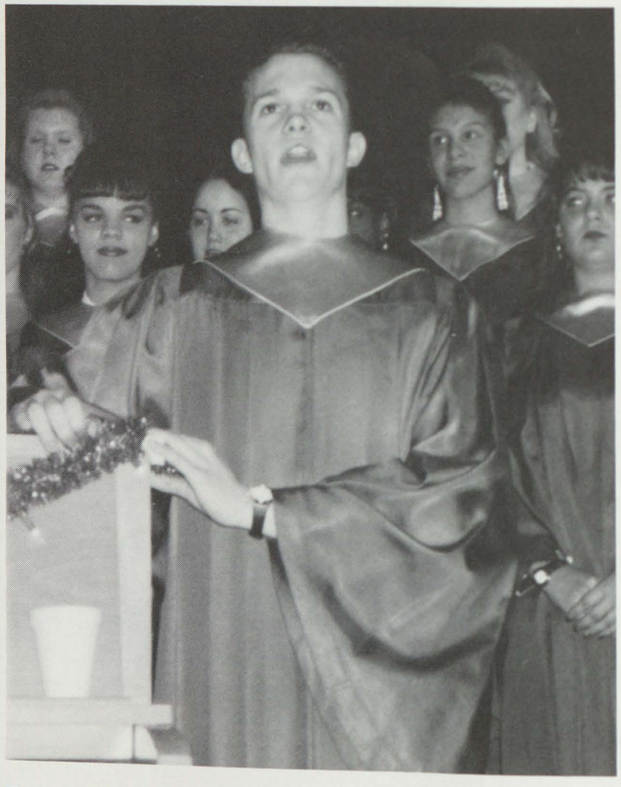

- Andrew Thaler

The choir is a group of talented students who perform at special events. They combine choreography with singing to perform a great show.

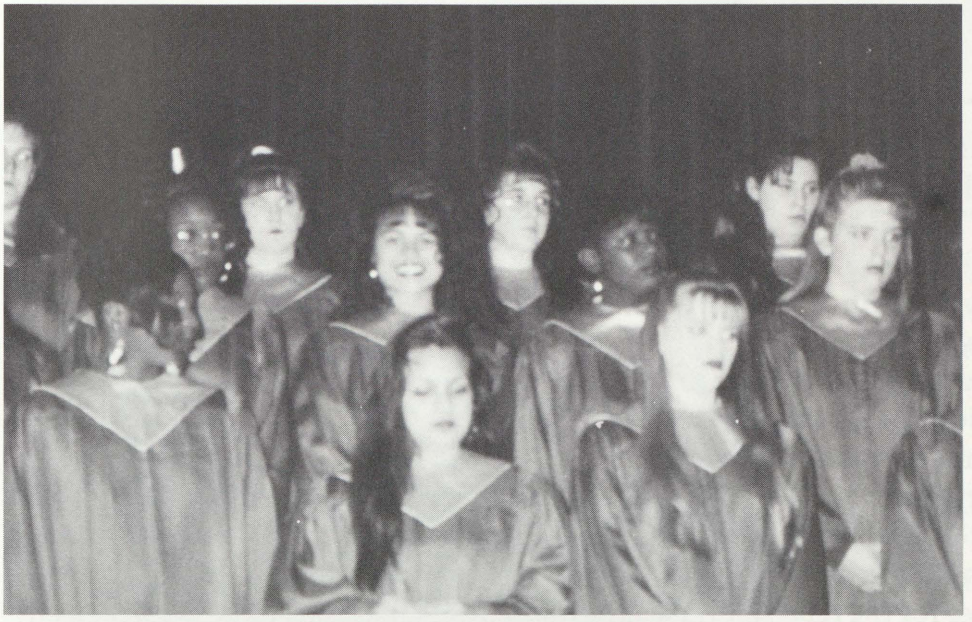

The main concerts that they perform at are Christmas and spring concerts. These concerts help everyone in the audience to bring their spirits up!

To prepare for these wonderful concerts, the choir students must undergo extensive practice. They not only need to learn the notes and the choreography moves, but they also have to learn to keep a smile on their faces at all times.

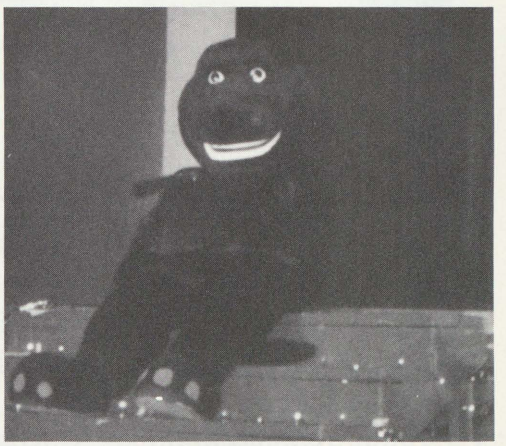

It takes a lot of hard work and talent to pull off these big concerts, but the Arthur Hill choir sure does a good job.

YEARBOOK: THE UNTOLD STORY

Have you ever wondered exactly what goes on behind the scenes of your school yearbook? All you probably know is that sometime around the end of the year, this big book with a lot of pictures shows up in mass quantities, and you can buy a copy if you're willing to fork over enough money. But how does the production really come about? Where does all the hard work and effort come from? More importantly, who's responsible for mangling the spelling of your name in that photo caption? We wanted to know, and so we sent an investigative reporter to find out.

Production starts off in the classroom. The yearbook class meets during fourth hour to play euchre, throw pizza parties, socialize, and occasionally lay out a page or two. Actually, we're just kidding. Most have also taken a journalism class so they are fully qualified to write stories, also. Although their grammar and spelling need work.

There are two groups in the yearbook class. The first group consists of the people in the main room, who put photos together for all the different sections of the yearbook, write stories that are either too long or too short to fit well on a page, and then draw layouts on special layout sheets with all the pictures going in the wrong spots. Then we have the second group, consisting of the people in the computer room, who type up the stories, fix all the other people's mistakes, lay out the page on the computers using Aldus PageMaker™, and then go complain to the other group that the layouts that they're given are no good because nothing fits and the captions are stupid.

The ones that do most of the work in the computer room are Matt and Andrew. They both lay out pages, and then Andrew goes through and fixes up all the grammatical and spelling errors and changes the worst of the captions. Keep in mind that if a story in the yearbook doesn't make too much sense, it just means that there wasn't too much content to work with in the first place.

Periodically, the staff actually manages to get a couple pages ready and sends them off to Jostens Publishing in Clarksville, Tennessee. Jostens, which is really a front for a bunch of aliens planning their invasion of Earth, subcontracts it out to a company in Alaska. Unfortunately, Alaska is too cold for the computer disks that the pages are sent on, and so those are immediately shipped to a branch office in Sri Lanka.

Next, the pages are printed out on big pieces of paper, which are sometimes sent back to the yearbook staff as "proofs". (The staff hasn't quite figured out what they're supposed to do with these, so they typically just send them back to Sri Lanka. All this does is use up a lot of stamps.) Once all of the pages have been sent to Jostens and relayed back and forth to Sri Lanka, the yearbook is ready for production.

The production head, a grumpy old man who hates puppies and small children, uses a high-powered laser to beam the information to a satellite, which relays it to a top secret Department of Defense computer in the kitchen of the McDonald's in Pueblo, Colorado. This computer then utilizes classified electron-matter-transference technology (as seen on Star Trek) to create the yearbooks.

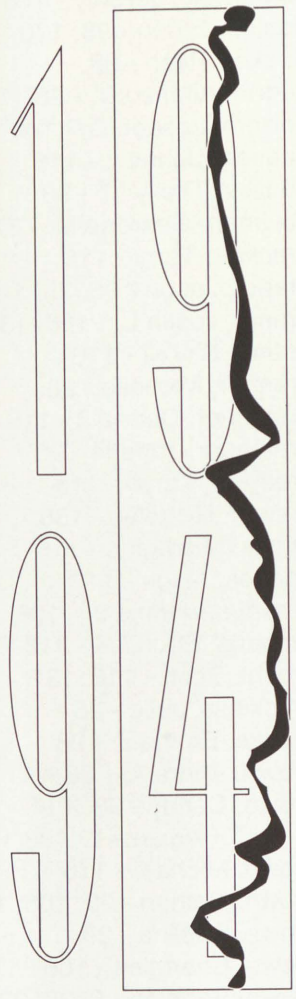

The finished yearbooks sit around in crates in the parking lot of McDonald's gathering dust for a while. One night, if all the children at Arthur Hill have been good and their homework is done, the yearbook fairy comes along and puts them under Mr. Mott's pillow while he's sleeping. Sure, he hits his head on the ceiling when he wakes up, but the important thing is that the yearbooks have arrived.

The yearbooks are then sold to unsuspecting students, teachers, and alumni. The yearbook staff is now able to relax, secure in the knowledge that their blood, sweat, and tears have not been shed in vain. (Please don't shatter the illusion by reminding them about next year.)

- Andrew Thaler

LEGENDA

1993-94

Dear Arthur Hill students:

We hope that 1994 was a memorable year for all the students at Arthur Hill. With the addition of the brand new freshmen and sophomores to the experienced juniors and seniors, Arthur Hill is, from now on, a home to high school students from start to finish. Now that we, along with the other seniors, are at the finish line with all our memories and experiences, we want to wish the underclassmen the very best for their exciting years ahead.

To the Juniors: You have another year of high school for making friends and memories to take with you when you leave Arthur Hill. Make the most and the best of it. Take on the challenge of being positive role models for the younger classes.

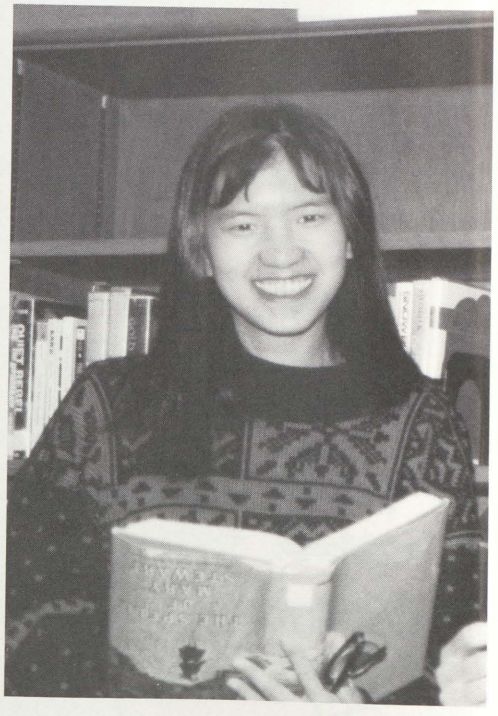

To the Sophomores and Freshmen: You are the future seniors of Arthur Hill. You did a great job adjusting to the sometimes chaotic life of high school. Strive to be the most spirited and involved class in the history of The Hill. Good luck!

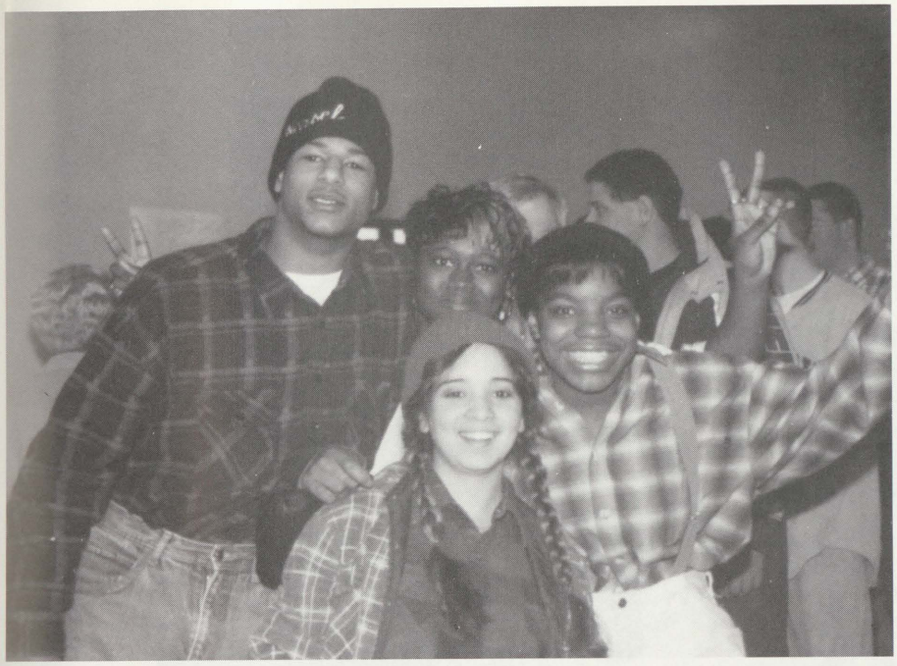

And finally, a word to our fellow Seniors: We're on our way to bigger and better things. We wish every one of you happiness and success. Wherever your adventures take you, be proud to be Arthur Hill Alumni.

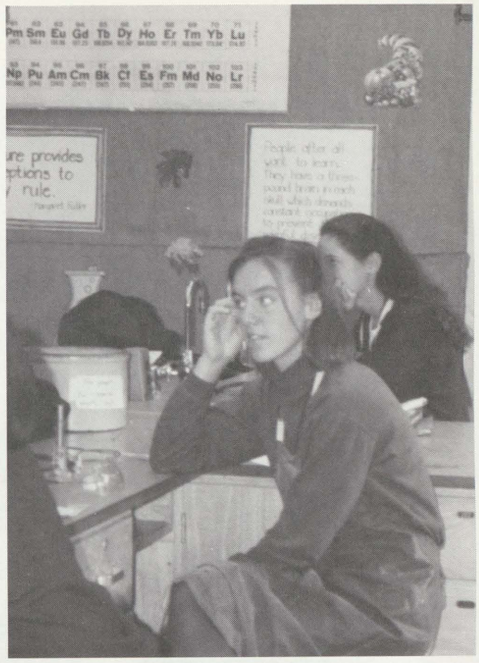

Thank you for a great and exciting year.

The Yearbook Editors -
Monica Rudy, Jessica Stratton, and Matt Feusse
